

Busy Housewives Know the Value of Linoleum

To the woman who does her own housework, a Linoleum floor in bath or kitchen is a real boon.

Waxed and polished, it is easily kept clean with an oil mop, and retains its bright, attractive appearance indefinitely.

Nowadays, when Red Cross and other war activities are demanding so much of your energy, save time and backache by using Linoleum on all your floors. There are no cracks to catch the dirt; the sanitary surface is impervious to grease and ordinary stains; only occasional scrubbing is necessary. And don't forget that Linoleum is easier under-foot than wood.

Let us show you our new spring arrivals in both the Inlaid and Printed Patterns. If you desire, our Linoleum salesman will call at your rooms and tell you exactly what a new Linoleum floor will cost.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Universalist dance, Feb. 19; Carroll's orchestra—adv.
Universalist dance Feb. 19, Howland hall, Carroll's orchestra—adv.
L. O. Morgan, the Williamstown station agent, was a visitor in the city today.

L. I. McLeod left last night for Boston, where he is making a business visit of several days.

Conductor Arthur Crawford of the Washington street trolley line has resumed his duties, after having been confined to his home on Brook street by an attack of the grip.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Knight, who have been passing several days in the city as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Wilson of Maple Grove, returned yesterday to their home in Schenectady, N. Y.

John R. McLean, who has been passing a week in Chelsea on business connected with the Union Clothing Co., stopped in Barre today while on his way home to Montpelier for the week end.

John Johnson of Williston, formerly known among followers of amateur baseball in Barre as "Jack" Johnson, arrived in the city yesterday for a visit at Goddard seminary, where, as a student, he was active in athletics. Mr. Johnson is now managing his father's large farm near the Williston station.

Mrs. Alex Murray and son, Alex Murray, of South Barre returned last evening from Montreal, where they have been visiting with the former's son, Private James Murray, who is a member of the Canadian regiment stationed at Montreal. Private Murray expects to see service over-seas in a short time.

Accompanied by Coach Noble, members of the Goddard seminary second-string basketball team returned this forenoon from Bethel, where they played the opening game on their schedule with the Whitcomb high school team there last evening. The local aggregation met defeat, the result of the game being the score of 31 to 18. The players going on the trip were Jacobs, Fuller, Slayton, Beattie, Garity, Sedor and Foster.

Frank G. Rogers' reserve crew of heavy lifters were drafted for a few hours this morning while the express man was moving the big safe formerly used by Boutwell, Milne & Varnum to the office of Calder & Richardson. The depot square coal dealers. When the quarry company abandoned its office at North Barre, the safe was left undisturbed. Recently it was acquired by H. A. Richardson. Little difficulty was encountered in transferring the big depository, although its weight, 2,000 pounds, made progress necessarily slow.

Although the members of the W. C. T. U. have not been neglecting the other departments of their organization this winter, they have been developing the social side of their work somewhat more than in recent years. Last night the ladies and gentlemen friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Maker of Elm street and enjoyed a very pleasant time together. The date was set for the next of the series of socials as Friday evening, March 15. Miss Elsa Ramage is in charge of the department of social activity and is receiving much commendation for her work.

The following item published in the Observant Citizen's column of yesterday's issue of the Boston Post may be of interest locally. "William B. Scott of Barre, Vt., tells me that he has a watch 237 years old. The watch was made in London in the year of 1681 and kept good time until two years ago. He says that at the present time the works are in first-class condition but that the cases are worn through in one place. Mr. Scott believes he has the oldest watch in New England. Can anyone prove different?"

The high school and eighth grade teachers from Barre went to the capital this morning to tender their services to commissioner M. T. Higgins, to whom has been assigned the task of classifying by occupation the Washington county registrants. The work is a part of provisions to be made by the state department of education and the government for supplying evening school advantages to registrants desiring special kinds of service. The Washington county local board is co-operating with Mr. Higgins and his assistants in making the classifications, which are secured from the questionnaires returned by the registrants in December and January.

Robert Gray, a driver employed by B. W. Hooker & Co., escaped by inches a serious injury late yesterday afternoon, when he was thrown over the railing of his livery rig and under the sleds at the corner of Washington and North Main streets. The mishap occurred when the horse cut a sharp corner near the park. The driver was unable to brace himself in time to avoid a fall, with the result that he pitched headlong over the side of the outfit. He had the presence of mind to shout a halting command to the horse, which stopped almost on the instant while Mr. Gray hastily disengaged himself from the runners. Beyond a severe shaking-up, the young man was uninjured.

Six more Barre young men were off this morning to join the colors, three of them leaving for Camp Greene, Charlotte, N. C., while the others were slated for Oglethorpe, Ga. Neil Cheney, who recently returned to Barre from Augusta, Me., William Gray and William Given are heading for Fort Oglethorpe to join the medical corps. James Gibson, a former member of the state National Guard, Leo Polonghini and John Lavalley have gone to Camp Greene to drill under the colors of the first Vermont infantry. At the 8:25 train this morning they were farewelled by a considerable company of friends. Each man was outfitted with a sweater, two pairs of socks, a helmet, wristers and comfort kit, the gift of the Barre branch of the Red Cross. The party expected to be joined at the capital by a young man named Corrigan from Washington, five Montpelier recruits and the young men from the Italian colony in Northfield.

Riding down from Washington yesterday on a load of hay, John Papin, a North Main street trolley driver, encountered the most hazardous traveling of the winter, and made port with his cargo nearly intact only by dint of much persistence. Three times between Washington and this city the load overturned and Mr. Papin and his man were reduced to desperate straits. The high wind and the soft, deep snow were responsible for the most exciting incidents of the trip. Scarcely had the outfit left the farmer's barn where the hay was purchased when the load took its first tumble. Near East Barre the sleds settled into a snow pit and the load pitched off a second time. It "rode" easily until the horses reached Washington street, where the depression of the trolley track caused another spill. Most of the hay was deposited on the track and traffic near the end of the line was held up while the livery man and his assistant resolutely reloaded.

Our Early Showing of Ladies' Suits

We are now showing a good assortment of the early spring suit models. You will want a new spring suit; and the best values of the season will be found among the early models. The new models we are now showing are the Wooltex and Printz-Beiderman makes. These are suits that for style and service cannot be beaten. All cloths put into these garments are strictly all wool. If interested in suits you should see these early spring models.

Spring House Dresses

Our spring line of House Dresses will interest ladies in need of these Dresses. The price of Ginghams and Percales will necessarily advance the price quite a little this season, but when you see these spring models and compare prices and figure the amount of material it takes, you will realize how cheap these Dresses are.

These are the Good Service make of House Dresses, and those of you who have had these Dresses know how well they are made and how well they fit.

The materials are the best quality of Percales and Ginghams.

At $1.25 are a few Fleece-Lined Wrappers in qualities that sold at $1.50. These are in medium Grays.

These House Dresses are made in a number of the season's best style models, in Blue Stripes, Gray Figures, in Percale, and the Striped Ginghams in Blues, Grays, Pink and Lavender. The Black and White Checks are also very good. The expansion band is a feature that appeals to all who have had these Dresses.

As an American, it is your contribution to the fight to do your share in conserving the food of the world. Waste nothing.

Miss L. L. Skinner went to Waterbury this morning for a week-end visit.

Saturday is the last day of Paige & Shaw week at the Barre Candy Kitchen. Have you tried these delectable confections?

Miss Agnes McLaughlin, who has been making an extended stay in Northfield, passed through the city yesterday while on her way home to Granitville.

Mrs. W. A. Hurry of Washington street received a letter yesterday from her son, Pvt. Albert G. Hurry, that he had just arrived at a European port after a very enjoyable trip. His letter was dated Jan. 20.

Orders to report at Princeton, N. J., next Saturday were received by Percy Haskett of North Main street of this city. Mr. Haskett, who was a member of the 1917 graduating class of Goddard seminary, enlisted in the aviation service of the U. S. army several months ago and since then has been awaiting his call to report for duty. He expects to leave the city Thursday evening for Princeton, where he has been ordered to report with 20 other New England young men for a special course at Princeton university, he being the only Vermont young man in the quota.

Early Showing of Wash Goods

We have now ready for your inspection a large display of the new early Wash Goods. These you will find an unusual collection of the season's newest cloths.

Voiles are holding their own and are continuing in steady request. So large is the variety of printings that each collection is in a class by itself. This makes it possible to show an unusually large line of confined styles in this cloth.

American designer have contributed much to complete the assortment of Printed Voiles by developing patterns in such variety as to stimulate interest in spring offerings.

Gingham promises to be as popular as ever for simple summer dresses. The Plaids and Checks are being made up lined with plain collars of contrasting colors, and with white collars and cuffs.

Cotton and Silk Mixture Cloths will be very good this season. These come in the Foulard and many popular weaves, giving a variety of patterns and a quality of materials that make up very attractively and serviceably.

See our line of the season's most popular Wash Goods.
